An aerial photograph of a white, two-decked boat named 'LINNEA' filled with people, cruising on the Chicago River. The river is a deep blue-green color. In the background, the Chicago skyline is visible, featuring several tall skyscrapers, including the Willis Tower. The sky is clear and blue. The boat is moving towards the viewer, leaving a small wake in the water.

ARCHITECTURAL BOAT CRUISE

When in Chicago, cruising down the Chicago River is a must. Except with us, you'll be taking in the architecture of the buildings that line the beautiful river. We provide detailed explanations of the construction and history of over 50 significant buildings, wrapping up at the end of the river.

THE MAGNIFICENT MILE

The Magnificent Mile is one of the most iconic shopping areas in the world. Located between the Michigan Avenue Bridge and Oak Street, this cosmopolitan, history-packed strip on downtown Michigan Avenue leads you from department stores to luxury boutiques to brand-name retail chains — all within a scenic stroll of each other.

Or journey to the beautiful Gardens d'Acquigny, boasting waterfalls, bridges, canals and a wide variety of trees and plant life. As part of your excursion, you will also venture within the borders of Vexin Francais Regional Nature Park to Château de la RocheGuyon, a castle built against a cliff perched above the Seine that encompasses several centuries of architectural styles, with the ruins of its medieval tower dominating the village beneath it.

The DuSable Black History Museum and Education Center

The DuSable Black History Museum and Education Center (formerly, DuSable Museum of African American History) in Chicago is dedicated to the study and conservation of black history, culture, and art. It was founded in 1961 by Margaret Taylor-Burroughs, her husband Charles Burroughs, Gerard Lew, Eugene Feldman, Bernard Goss, Marian M. Hadley, and others. They established the museum to celebrate black culture, at the time overlooked by most museums and academic establishments. The museum has an affiliation with the Smithsonian Institution.

CHICAGO'S NAVY PIER

An aerial photograph of Navy Pier in Chicago, Illinois. The image shows the large Centennial Wheel, a Ferris wheel with many passenger cars, and the surrounding park area with various buildings and structures. The pier extends into Lake Michigan, and the water is visible in the background.

Located on Lake Michigan, Navy Pier is the most visited destination in the Midwest, stretching more than six city blocks and welcoming nearly 9 million annual guests. Originally opened in 1916 as a shipping and recreation facility, this Chicago landmark showcases over 50 acres of parks, restaurants, attractions, retail shops, sightseeing and dining cruise boats, exposition facilities, and more. The Pier celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2016 with the unveiling of the Centennial Wheel, Polk Bros Park, and Peoples Energy Welcome Pavilion. Today, Navy Pier continues to usher in its second century with ongoing redevelopment efforts including the 223-room Sable hotel, the all-transient Navy Pier Marina, and thrilling new attractions such as Flyover Chicago. The Pier is proud to present free programming designed to inspire and engage communities across the city and globe, including the #1 Fireworks display in the nation.
